GreenMarE | 2021

Introduction

GreenMarE is a maritime conference with a European dimension, the purpose of which is:

- to search for innovative technical solutions
- to exchange the ideas and experiences in the field of ecology and environmental protection by representatives of the maritime industry, including:
 - shipyards
 - design offices
 - equipment manufacturers
 - national and European administration
 - classification societies and financial institutions.

New goals

In the coming years the maritime industry will face the energy transition due to the decarbonisation of shipping. The technological race to develop new, emission-free propulsions has begun.

By referring to the global environmental issues and related regulations of international institutions as IMO, we would like to start a dialogue on the zero emission propulsions for the ships in Europe.

We want to start an international dialogue, leading to the implementation of the most environmentally friendly solutions for the maritime industry in Europe

We believe, that now is the time for discussion and exchange of thoughts, experiences and available solutions between representatives of the maritime industry, governments and regulatory institutions.

Due to the scale and importance of the topic with the support of our partners:

- Norwegian Embassy
- SEA Europe
- DNV
- Mayor of the City of Gdańsk

Activities

GreenMarE will be an annual conference where in the friendly atmosphere we will discuss the best ecologically friendly solutions for the maritime transport.
